

Oh, the Places You've Been!

"Library Copy"

NORTH LAMBTON S.S. LIBRARY

This year NLSS has tried something new!

*In September '04, a new class had begun, this class would make your yearbook plenty more fun.
What did North Lambton bring to you all?
Not just a club, but classes big and small.
Where dedicated students work at their task, leaving nothing out, making deadlines fast!
This year you'll see a theme that spans cover to cover,
'04/'05 will be a book like no other.*

Each student will be on the the pages more times, and with each page there'll be Dr. Seuss' pics and rhymes.

This year students were out in the halls at your clubs and your sports games, they were at them all.

Taking fabulous pictures of you and your friends, over and over and over again.

*We did not stop, until we had them all,
every student within, some big and some small.*

*We got those who were shy,
and those on their spare,
no matter what, you'll be in there.*

*Now open the pages, join in the fun,
your yearbook experience has only begun!*

Mrs. Piquette and Mrs. Colman are making sure they check things over twice!

Most of this year's graduating students, Mr. Jackson and I all started here in Eagle Country four years ago. To the graduating students congratulations for:

- Achieving academic and extracurricular excellence
- Sharing a great experience with us over the last 4 years
- Adjusting to a world that dramatically changed when you began high school in September of 2001

You have developed many skills that will help you succeed in this new era.

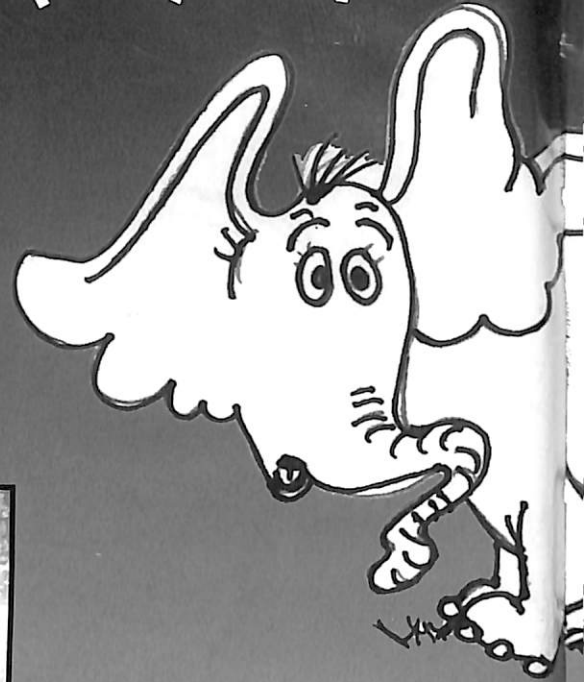

It's been a terrific four years and I hope that I can continue here in Forest for many years to come.

Mr. Warner

What a group! Mr. Jackson, Mr. Warner and their leading ladies take a minute out of their busy lives to flash us a smile.

I F I R A N

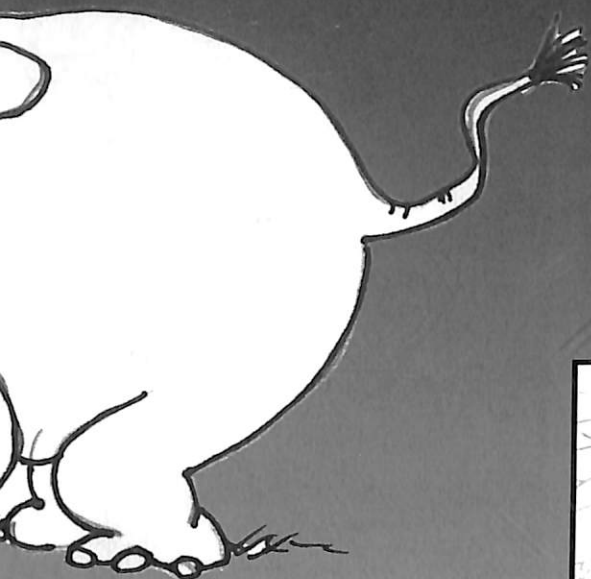

If You're the type that gets in trouble-trouble at this point you'll try to get out of the rubble.

But he will outwit you as quick as the pop of a bubble
The Jackson will catch you!
He'll start questioning!
He'll ask you, point blank, how you could be so daring!

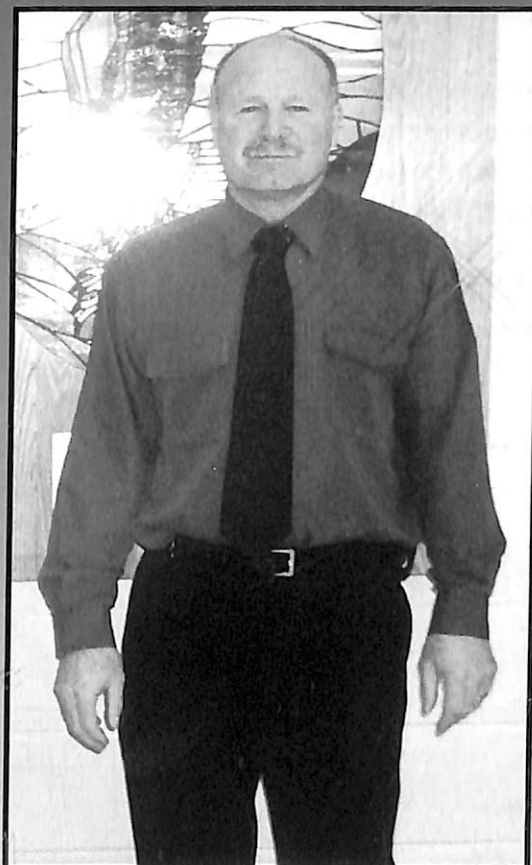

But if you're the one bad of the bad
You must see Mr. Warner,
our Prosecution Whiz,
who knows every crime and thought that there is.

THE CIRCUS

Mr. Warner will find,
as he works on your case
if it's a lie you are telling,
he'll see on your face!

And when that guy finds out what exactly you did you can bet you should not have told that fib!
So from here on just listen and don't tell lies Whereupon.. if you're smart
there's a very good chance that you won't meet again!

We were sneaky enough to catch Mrs. Hall off guard!

Another successful year has passed. Congratulations Staff and Students! It is hard to believe that the students who entered grade nine when I was assigned to this school will graduate this year.

As the proud Vice-Principal of North Lambton Secondary School, one of the highlights of the 2004-2005 was our semi-formal, Viva Las Vegas. The compliance by the attending students and the dedication of the organizing committee was commendable.

Best of luck to all graduating students with your future endeavours. Returning students, let's make this next year even better.

Mr. Jackson

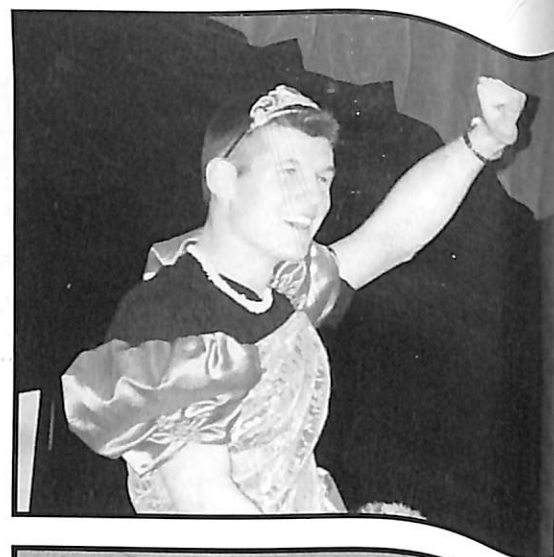

We all know that these ladies are the ones who really keep this circus in business!

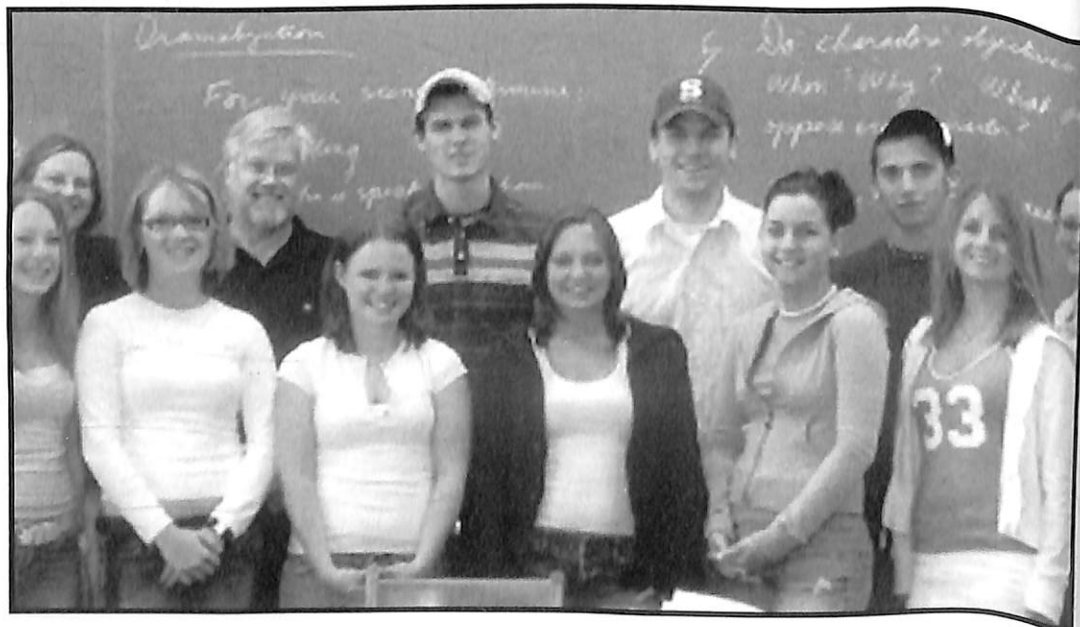

This year we have had tremendous participation from all of our members of Class of 2005. Some of the events we put together included Commencement, Semi Formal, the Talent Show, and of course, Prom. Big thanks go out to all of our members: "The Boys" Bryan Davidson, Charlie Aarts, Brennen Rumford and Jeff Wilson for putting up with all of us girls and for doing a fantastic job hosting the Talent Show. You guys were hilarious. Meaghan VanEngelen, Courtnee Rogers, Alisha Maxfield, Ashley Gale, Mackenzie Brown and Paige Bressette, thank you for coming to the meetings and helping out with the little jobs us executives never wanted to do. Thanks to treasurer, Samantha Rawlings and Vice-President, Julie VandenBoer, for being the master minds behind Semi Formal and Prom. Thanks to Katie Vanos, Secretary, for keeping all of us on track. Last but not least, special thanks to Ms. Kingdon and Mr. Perry for all of their guidance and help. Congratulations to the Class of 2005, and good luck to next years executives and the Class of 2006.

Jill Thomas -Class of 2005 President

STUDENT COUNCIL

Looking back, it is surprising to see how far we have traveled in what now seems such a short time. We have all seen many changes, not only in the evolution of our school, but also personally within our lives since the beginning of September. We have yet to see where all the final outcomes will lead us, but I want for you to remember that the future of our school, nation, and world rests in the hands of those who take action.

Those who carry dreams and vision, and who push forward with vigor and strength to translate them into action, will make and possess the future. No matter how large or small, combined, our every-day actions will shape the future of our school, and our generation. Therefore keep faith when others may be uncertain, stand with courage when you are faced with opposition, always give your best, and never get discouraged.

Even though we did not accomplish all that was envisioned for our school, I am satisfied and proud that all of Student Council gave our best, and did not get discouraged. Change does not come quickly, and we must be willing to compromise along the way. Therefore I think what this Council best leaves for the next is our ideas and our ideals. Our deep belief in the ability of the students of North Lambton to best provide for the direction of their own school, and our commitment to always listen to and represent that voice in improving every area of student life and school atmosphere.

I have the fullest confidence in your new President, Marissa VanEngelen, to guide N.L.S.S., and wish her all the best over her tenure. It has been a privilege to work with her over the past year, and I could not think of any person that is more dedicated and able to recognize the student voice and improve the school environment and student welfare over the next year.

I would like to extend to the entire Student Council and teacher advisors of the past year my utmost thanks. We may not have agreed on everything, but you have taught me more about leadership than I can express with words, and for that I am extremely grateful.

And I leave my deepest gratitude and appreciation to you, the students of N.L.S.S. for giving me the opportunity to serve as your President. I have been honoured by the faith and trust you placed in me, and always worked to be deserving of it.

I leave simply to the student body the message that this is your school, and that you have the power to direct it's future. One person may not make a huge difference in change, but together your actions will mold it's future. Dare to dream.

With every best wish for the future, I am,

Andrew W. Jones

President, N.L.S.S. Student Council

Student Council Executives 2004/2005 (L-R):

Andrew Jones -President, Janelle VanKessel -Sr. Events Co-ordinator, Maggie Albert -Treasurer, Brianne Hughes -Treasurer, Kaley Sisler -Secretary, Katie Vanos -Public Relations, and Marissa VanEngelen -Vice President.

CONGRATULATIONS

Today is your day!
You're off to great places,
You're off and away!

Graduates gathered in NLSS's gymnasium to celebrate their accomplishments. Melissa Pang inspired her fellow graduates with her valedictorian speech and Mr. Murree served as an excellent guest speaker.

Our Wonderful Staff

Our teacher's helped push, pull and prod us through another successful year. They are able to use their individual unique teaching styles to inspire and guide us through our studies and into the next chapter in our lives. Tribute to Mr. Moloy from Charlie Aarts, Jeff Wilson, Brennan Rumford, and Bryan Davidson:

Big Eddie's at the point. It's the end of the road
Time grabbed him by the wrist, God he looks so old
He'll give you a test and then you'll wonder why
Why aren't we playing floor hockey at this time

We now it's unpredictable, but in the end it's right
So give those bell-ringers and deep tests in your mind
No more girls soccer, what'll you do with your time
Those old jumpsuit will never go out of style
For what it's worth, it was worth all the while
It's something unpredictable, but in the end it's right
It was quite predictable, just look at his age
He grew up when Flappers were the rage
We hope you have the time of your life
We'll miss yah big guy!!!!

C O F F E E H O U S E

Frank Kirkey rocks out on the mandolin.

This year marked the third annual Coffee House sponsored by Mr. Dumais' Senior Drama class. The talent at NLSS is bountiful and we had performances by several poets, singers, rappers and small acoustic ensembles. Thanks go out to the many performers who gave their time and talents, and to the Gr.11 & 12 class for their hard work organizing this successful event.

Ms. Ward, Dean Smit and friends play a cheerful tune.

April Beer reads a self written poem.

Jake Campbell entertains the audience with a song.

1. Talented Dawn Redskye can sing and play the guitar.

2. Natasha Vaessen & Carly Allen were this year's Coffee House emcee's.

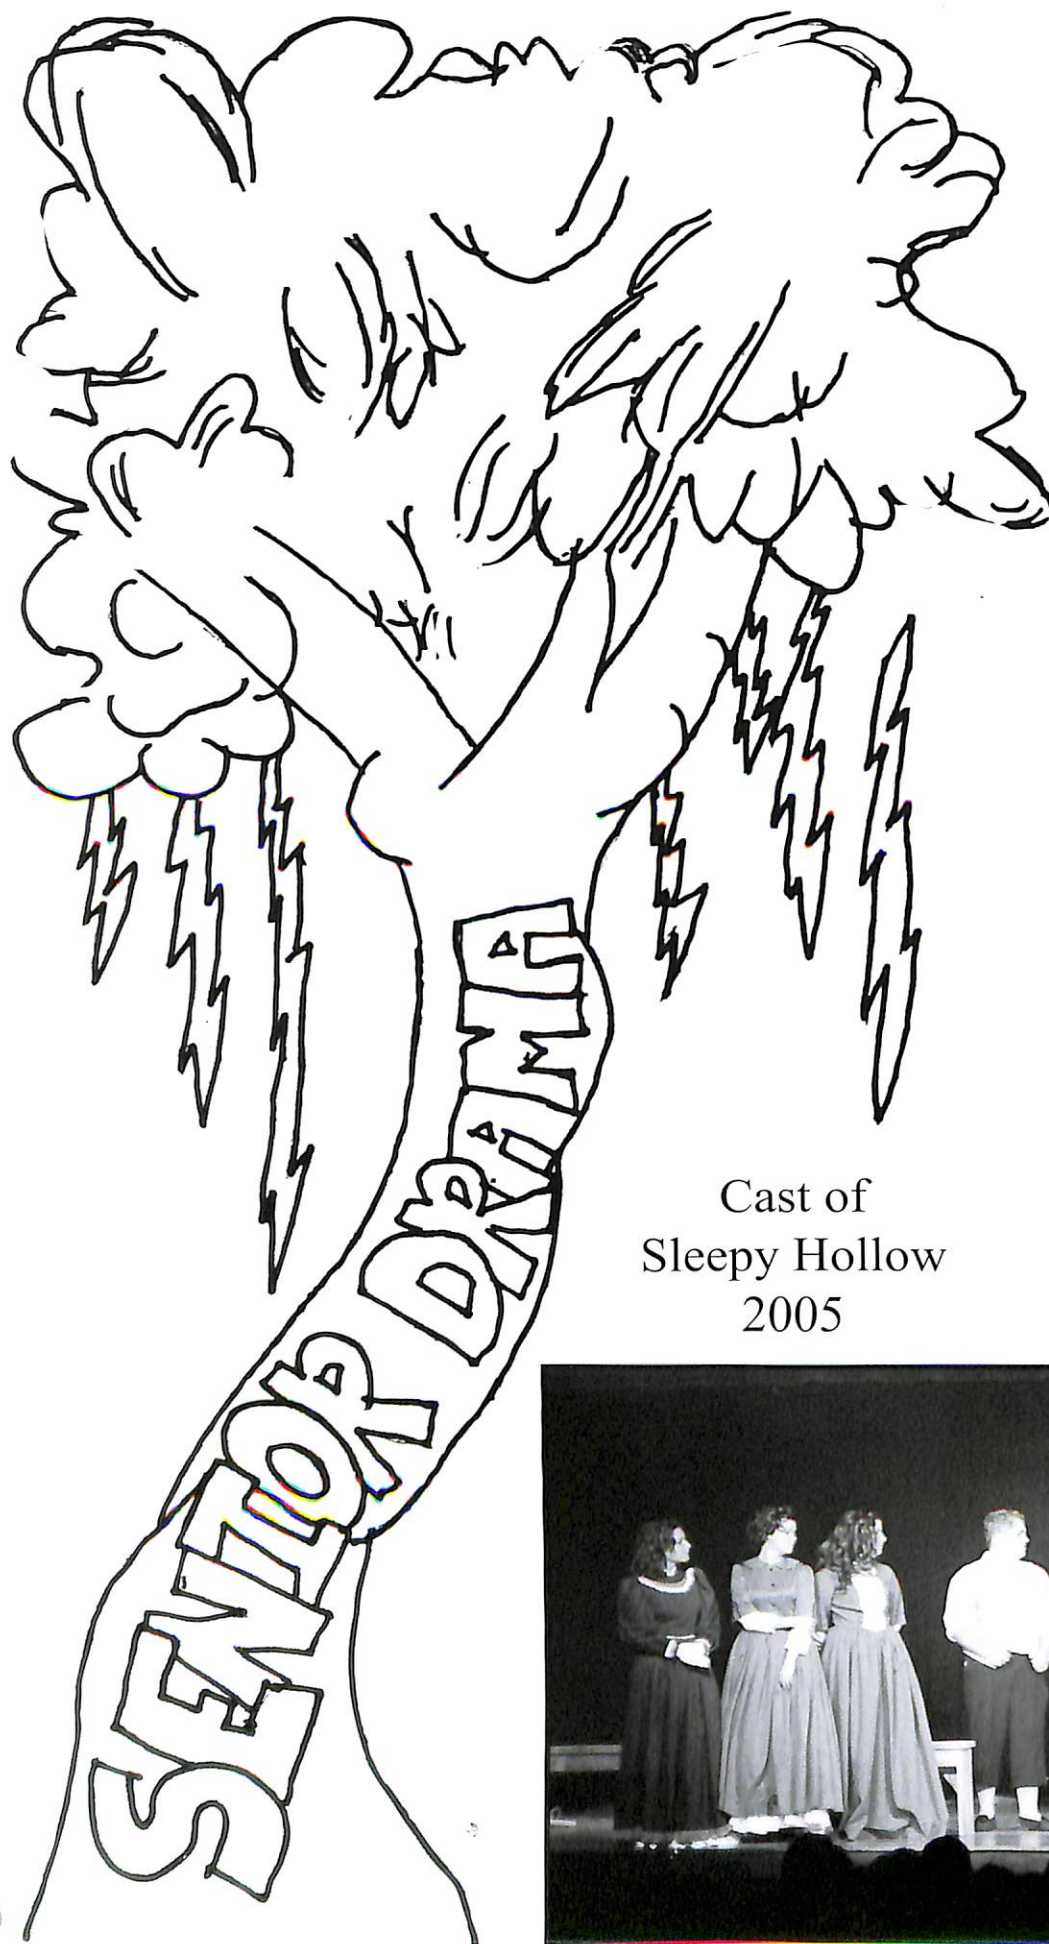

3. Jamie Cloud can rap and rhyme.

4. Nadia Watts performs acapella.

5. Kevin Vansteenkiste and 6. Chad Campbell give a vibrating performance on their guitars.

7. Christine Vandenberg gives a star performance.

Cast of Sleepy Hollow 2005

Jeremy Stephenson and Kurt Kronenberg are having a swell time at the well.

Eli Spanton looks a little serious with that ruler, you better behave or he'll give you a whack!!!

SLEEPY HOLLOW

rides..
You'll probably die of FRIGHT!!!

Farmer Stuyvesant (Derek McDonald) and the towns ladies (Jenny Feddema, Sarah Downie, and Christine Vandenberg.)

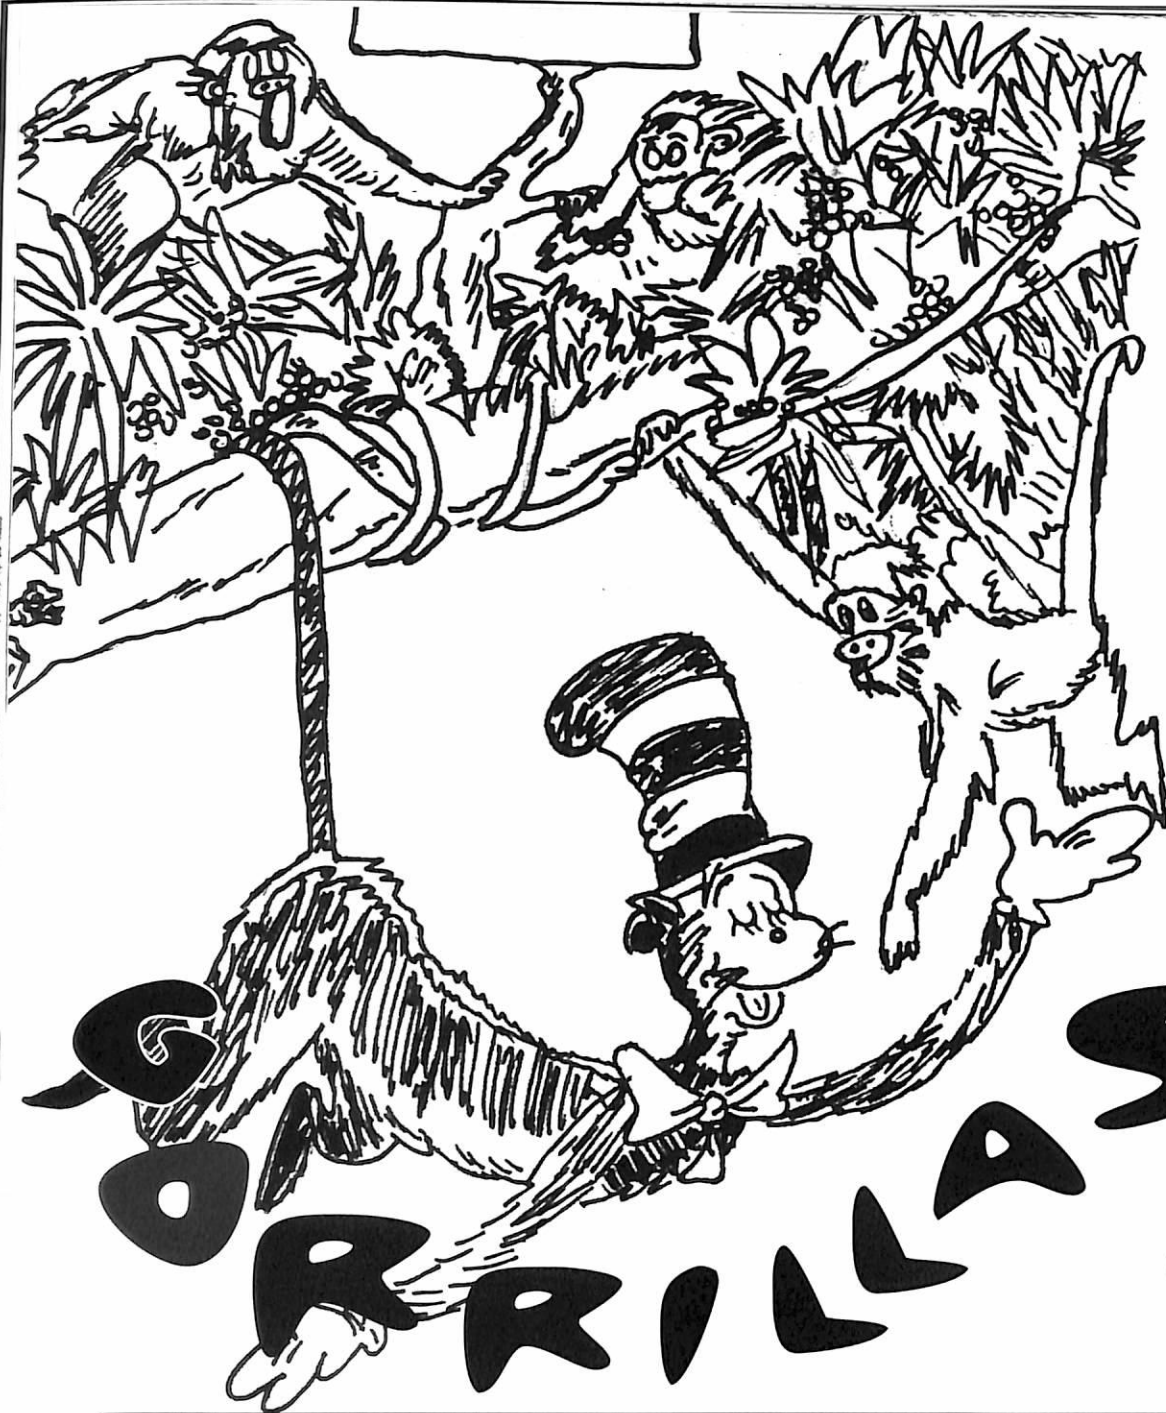

"No schoolmaster, Yes schoolmaster" is what these two young school girls are saying.

Derek McDonald watches and learns how to pick up the ladies from Ryan Morris.

This year the Senior drama class presented two separate plays which included Sleepy Hollow. There was a lot of work put into the show and the students presented it well. This was the first year that they ever did two shows in one semester.

Peter Kronenberg, looks as if he's found the murderer and solved the mystery

Carly, you couldn't make yourself look more obvious to Detective Cody that you are the shameless murderer!

I bet you wouldn't guess that Mark Piquette is not only human, he's a gorilla too!

Lauren Charette and Derek McDonald! Stop fooling around you two and get back to ushering the guests!

Detective (Cody Street) looks like he is sure to find the murderer.

MIDST

It was obvious that this year's senior drama class was an enthusiastic and dedicated cast. After doing two plays within a short period of time, these students could still remember all their lines, not mix up shows, and continue to keep a dramatic smile. That definitely deserves a pat on the back for these drama folks! But, I'm sure that they did get their well deserved applause after each show. Everyone was very impressed with the amount of talent we have in this small school of ours. There is no doubt that the Murder Mystery was a great success. These people were so good at acting that sometimes we can't tell if Carly Allen really is a gorilla... or is it Mark Piquette? It's a mystery to all, or is there something that Cody is not telling us?

Carly, why are you so tense?

Nadia, I think you just set the latest with that amazing safari outfit!

Let's start at the beginning with betting, it is key.
It began the fun mood
in which we all could see.

From the great BBQ
to the last minute running.
These girls were ready and the auction was stunning.

Every person and prize
each played a part
From the hot tub party, to the tickets, to the gift baskets and art.

With more people
than last, this year was a hit.
With smiles all around,
their bids they did submit

We have come to the end
Of our auction, it is true.
But everyone is a winner especially you!
there's no need to feel blue

Slaving over a BBQ? Not these girls! Courtney Rogers and Kelly Hackney sell all the goodies!

With the sponsors posted behind them, Jamie Sterling, Lauren Gilfoyle, and Julie Stewardson take a break from helping people to flash their bidding cards a smile!

THE BIG AUCTION

Working hard, having fun, and still looking beautiful. Sari
Vossen, Joey Burnley, Ainsley Davis, and Josée Wilson prepare for the big night.

Keeping things under control, Jamie Prong and Alex Pearson do their part to make sure the auction runs smoothly.

After lots of planning, lots of organizing, and lots of fun, Meghan Watson, Janelle Van Kessel, Mrs. Johnson, Josée
Wilson, and Mrs. Bruce show off the cash and floral benefits of their hard work. Way to go ladies!

STAR

SEARCH

Who would have guessed there was so many talented students at NLSS? Class of 2005 did an excellent job setting up "Star Search 2005" and entertained us throughout the show. Guns and Duns got first place, and wooed the crowd with a cover of "Knocking on Heavens Door," by Guns and Roses. Esther Campbell sang her way to second place. Following her was Frank Kirky on the mandolin. Congratulations to all the participants, it was an enjoyable event!

2005

Far Top: These boys entertained us between acts.

Middle: I think I've seen these girls in an Usher video.

Bottom Middle: Jake Campbell is born to be wild with his fancy shorts.

WINNER 'Guns and Duns' blew us away with a cover of "Knocking on Heavens Door."

Frank Kirky and Beccy Geerts show their talent with the violin and mandolin. Great Duet!

These three look like they're either clapping for their masters, or trying to encourage students that their fashion sense is the latest trend. I think most would agree that Matt can pull it off the best, but hats down to Meaghan and Nikki as well.

It's the one day of the year when the grade nines get to boss around the "big kids" at school! It is obvious that they take advantage of this day by making the seniors look like fools, dress them up in the tackiest clothes, make them sing in front of everyone their favorite nursery rhyme, and of course make them eat the most disgusting food possible. Just ask Nikki VanRiel what Jared VanKessel made her eat, it would definitely make you cringe! But all and all, the day turns out to be lots of fun, the grade nines make new and older friends, everyone gets a laugh, and the grade twelves get to be embarrassed for a whole day! However, I think our grade nines chose the wrong people to be their slaves because it looks like these seniors don't seem to mind!

Wade Maxfield must think that he definitely has his slave, Meaghan VanEngelen right embarrassed with this horrific clown getup. But Meaghan's wide smile tells us that she doesn't mind.

Katie Vanos and Nikki Van Riel look like they're having too much fun for being slaves.

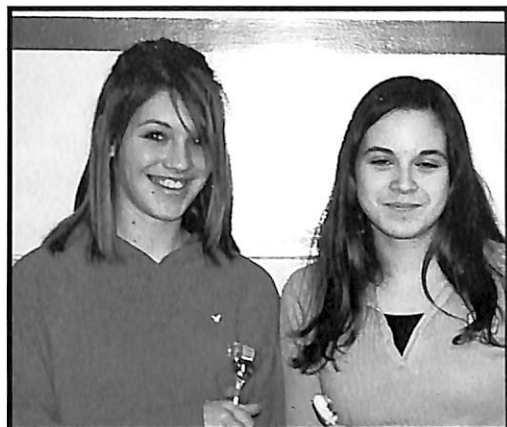

LOVE

Jessica Smeekens is giving Charlie Aarts a little taste of the friendship crush can that the Enviromental Club were selling.

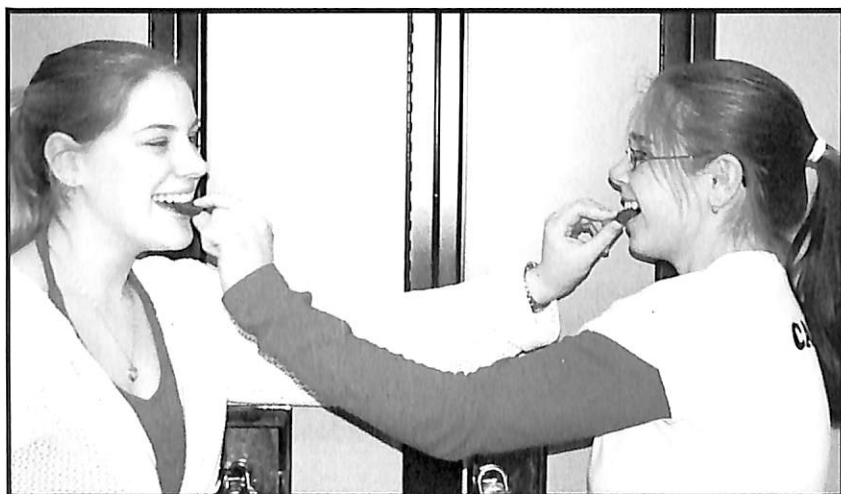

Match maker, Match maker, make me a match. Nicole Stewardson & Shelby Watson are looking for a date for Friday.

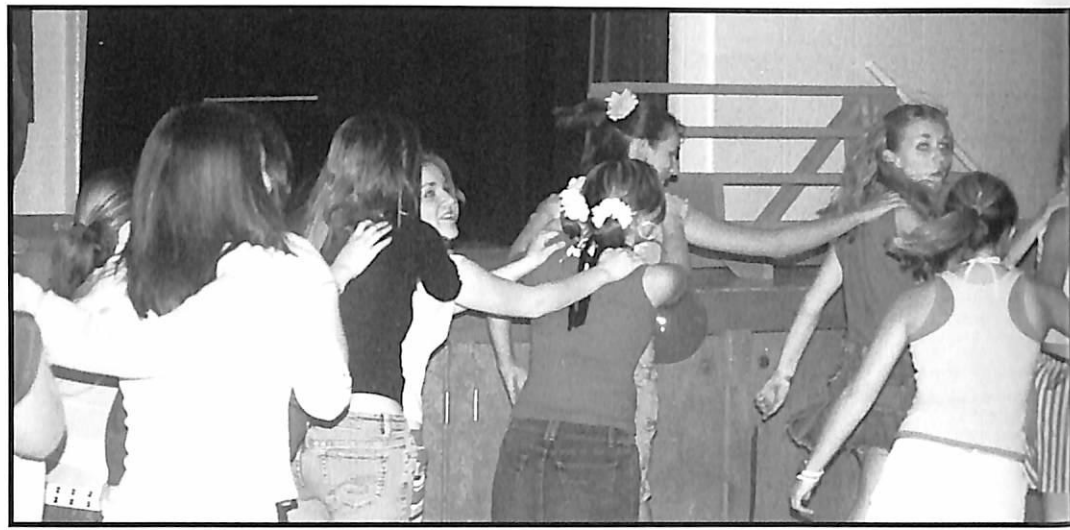

Meagan McGregor & Jaylyn Harrower supported Music by buying lollipops.

is in the Air

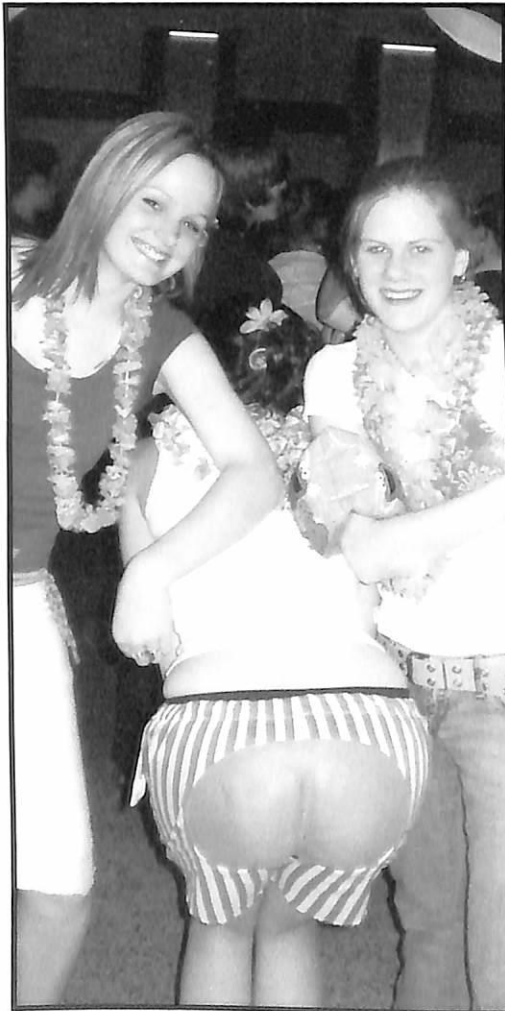

Katie Dew and Alida Campbell are sharing there chocolate hearts that they received from SAC.

1, 2, 3...Train with me. Beach Day at North Lambton was a huge success once again. Students put aside their winter boots and opted for their flip flops and then joined right in dancing.

Brianne Hughes and Kaley Sisler hang around with beach bum, Marissa VanEngelen.

Taking tickets and watching the door are Katie Vanos and Mallory Core.

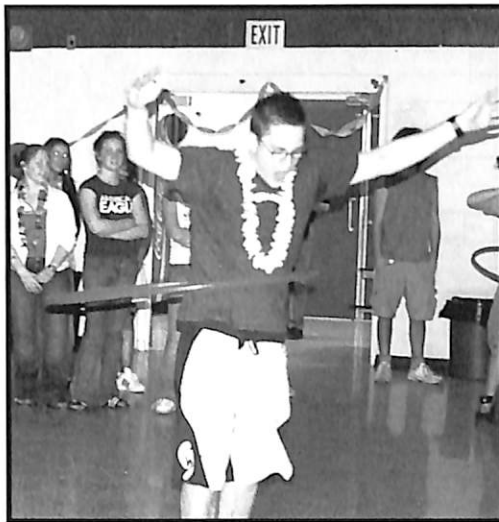

These young ladies only want to ask one thing, "Where are the dudes?"

Ainsley Davis, Shelby Watson, and Megan Watson skip class to throw the beach ball around in the halls and get in the school spirit.

This girl seems to have it all. Way to go Kelly Forbes, we knew you could do it!

Move aside ladies! Troy Adams sure knows how to stay in the groove.

Sun hats off to Rebecca Morris who kept the hula hoop up the longest.

Jump on! Sarah Downie and Jamie Sterling are heading to the beach.

Janie Vandenberg, Kirsty Boyd, and Allison Sweeney stop to smile for the camera and show off their great beach wear.

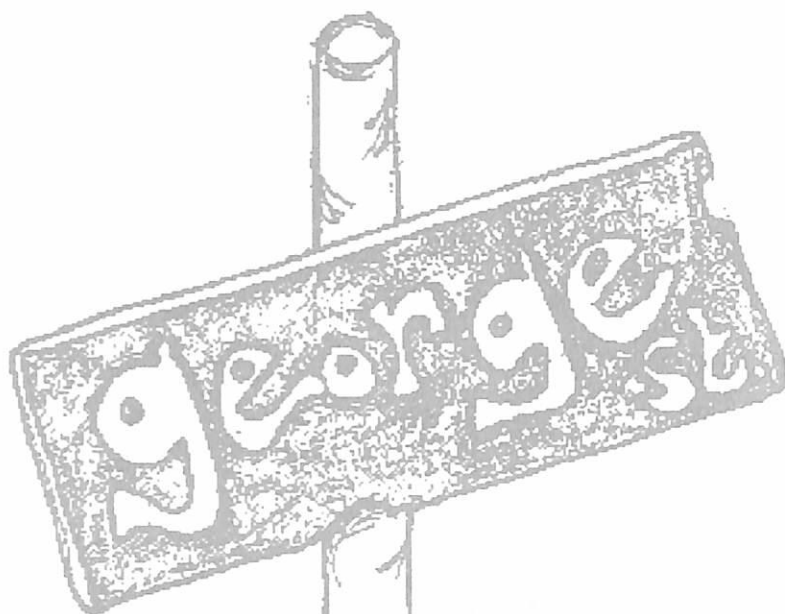

SPLISH SPLASH

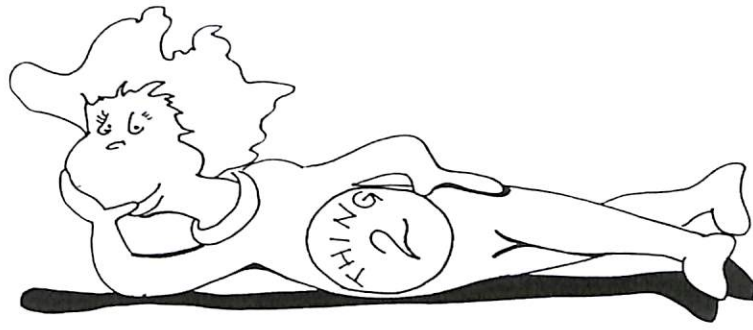

Charlie Aarts and Kelsey Cook did a fantastic job as DJ's for the Beach Day dance.

You can always count on Stephanie George, Tania George, and Amber Cottrelle to show off their moves and compete in the dance-off.

Where the Wild Things Are!

The next Miss Canada, Mr. Singh sparkles in his tiara, chandelier earrings, and necklace, but we have to ask...what's with the beard?

Got Milk? Joey Burnley shows us how important...and how cute cows really are.

Everything from sponge's to cows to Alice Cooper made an appearance on October 27th at North Lambton. Halloween was a howling good time, with a number of people getting in to the spirit, dressing up, and being rewarded (without having to say trick or treat) with a candy bag. The annual Halloween Dance was a hit, selling over 300 tickets. Who can forget Charlie Aarts' adaptation of Eminem's new song Just Lose It - hahahaha.

Going hunting? Would anyone want Sean Sweeney and Charles Anderson along for the game?

Spongebob's never looked so good, but Troy's looking a little dried up!

Oh to be young again! Jamie Sterling and Lauren Gilfoyle capture and relive our childhood moments

Five little pumpkins
Sitting on a gate,

The first one said,
"My it's getting late!"

The second one said,
"There's witches in the air!"

The third one said,
"I don't care!"

The fourth one said,
"I'm ready for some fun!"

The fifth one said,
"Let's run and run and run."

Oo-oo went the wind,
and out went the light,
and five little pumpkins rolled out of sight!

VIVA LAS VEGAS

Right Jamie Prong shoots a quick smile while dancing with her friends in Viva Las Vegas, Semi Formal 2004.

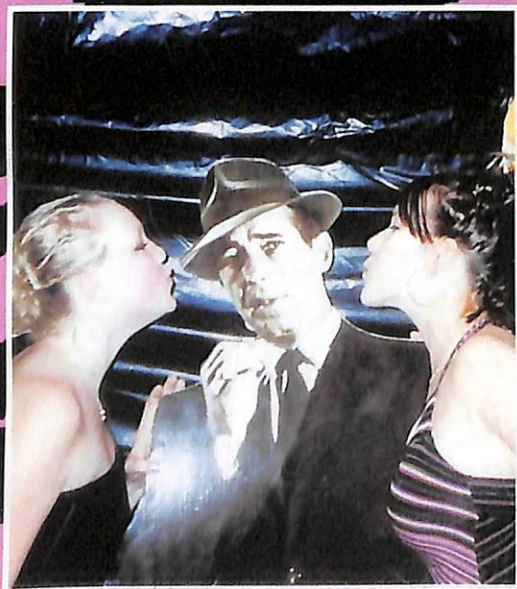

Natasha Vaessen, Meaghan VanEngelen, and Kelly Hackney show us their Las Vegas pose.

Enjoying the glitter and glam are Amber Potter, Katie Dew, Jalene Mitchell and a friend.

Carla-Ann Harrison saves a song to dance with Samantha Rawlings.

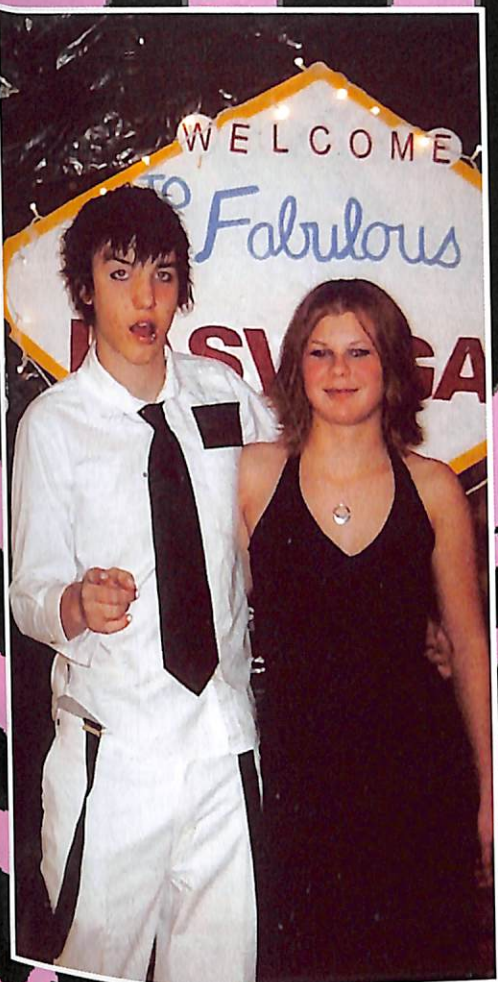

Jill Siruyf and Vanessa Emmons share a kiss with Humphrey Bogart.

Where are the lucky ladies of these seven stunning men? Dan VanHevel, Sam Campbell, Niel VanEngelen, Chris Pettigrew, Dave Huyben and D.J. Verroen smile for the camera.

SEMI FORMAL 2004

Josh Agar and Janelle VanKessel stop for a picture on the streets of Las Vegas.

Bryan Davidson, Brennan Rumford, Charlie Aarts, and Jeff Wilson gave up their luck on the dance floor to try it on the black jack table.

Snow King and Queen of 2004
David Klumpkins and Lauren Gilfoyle.

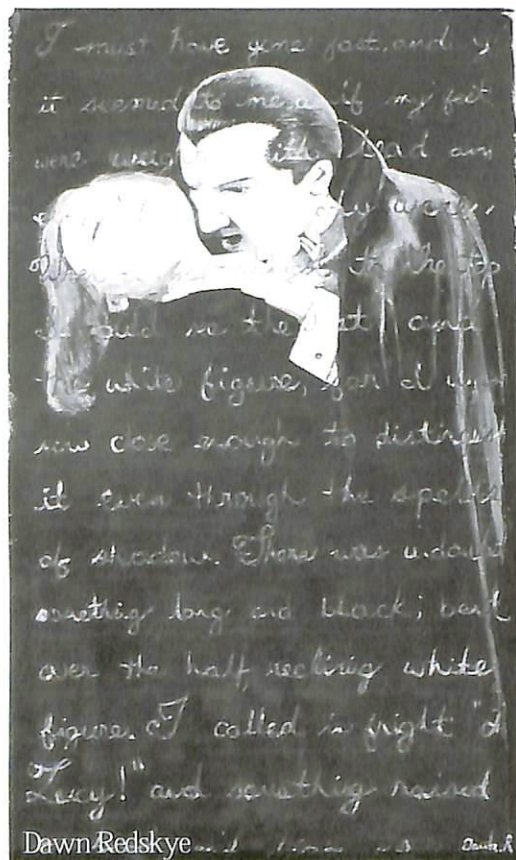

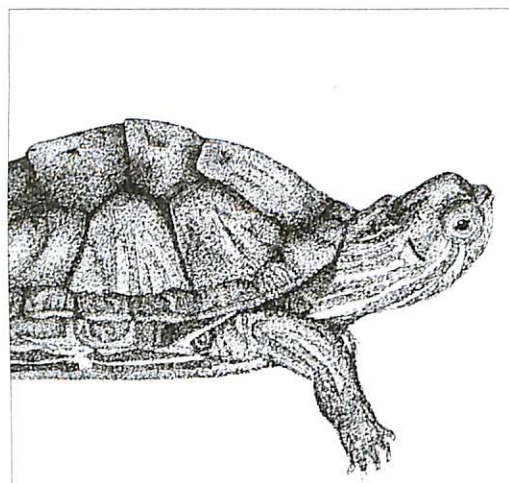

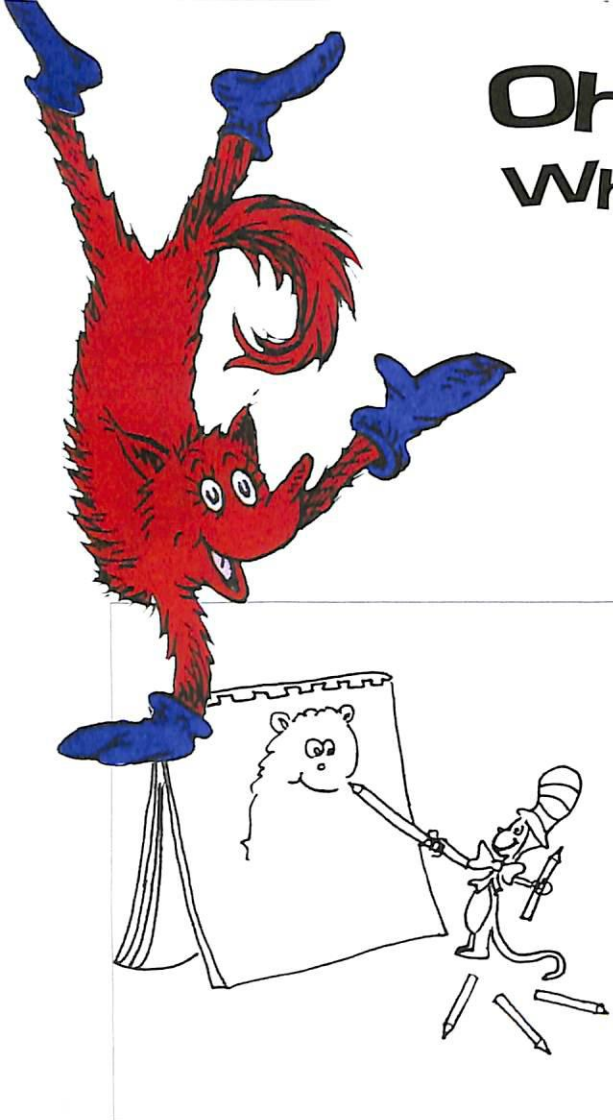

Aaron Dortmans hails to Viva Las Vegas while moving to the music.

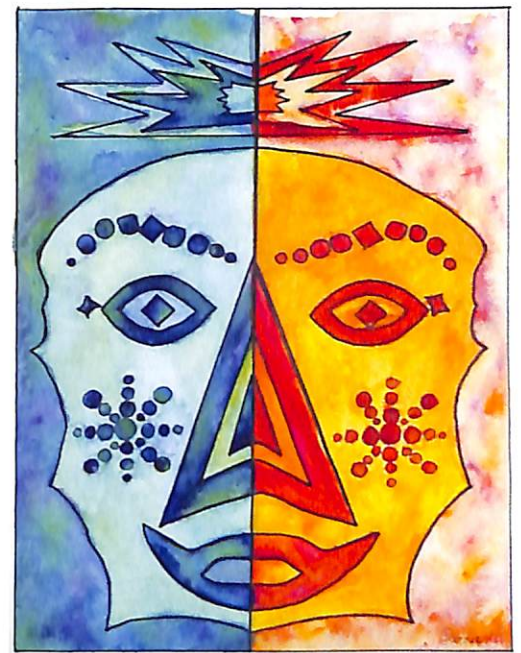

Julie VandenBoer, Mackenzie Brown and Katie Vanos all look gorgeous for the camera.

Class of 2005 did a great job on this year's Semi Formal. The gym was magically transformed into a Las Vegas atmosphere. It was the first year that there were games which helped people who didn't enjoy dancing have a blast testing their luck. It was a memorable night for everyone.

CITY

Standing before you is the beautiful, sacred church of Paris called the Sacre Coeur.

From June 25 to July 6 2004, our Eagles travelled across the ocean to tour the amazing country of France. The trip itinerary was full of exciting sights and events for the Eagles to explore. Starting off in Paris, the Eagles took four days to see the Eiffel Tower, the Arc De Triomphe, the Louvre, Notre Dame, and to get portraits done. The Eagles then soared over to see the Palais De Versailles, and remembered our war veterans at Normandy beach. A stop was made in Rouen to smell the blooming flowers at Van Gough's garden, and get a taste of France's finest wine and cheese. Sooner than later it seemed that it was already time to fly back home, Our Eagles weren't eager to leave this amazing country after the sights they saw, the cultural experience, the memories they made and especially bringing home a little bit of a French accent with them.

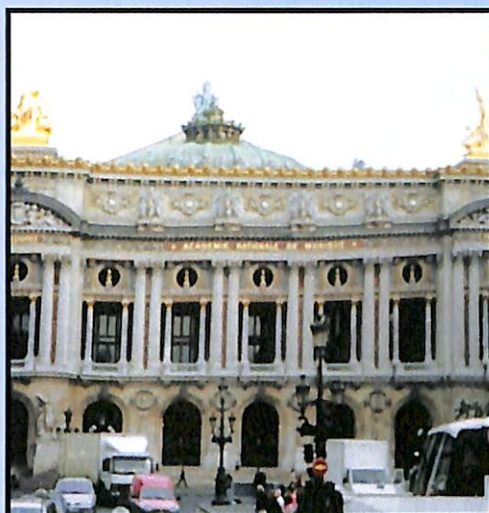

A few of the Eagles relax on the royal step down to the garden at the Palais De Versailles.

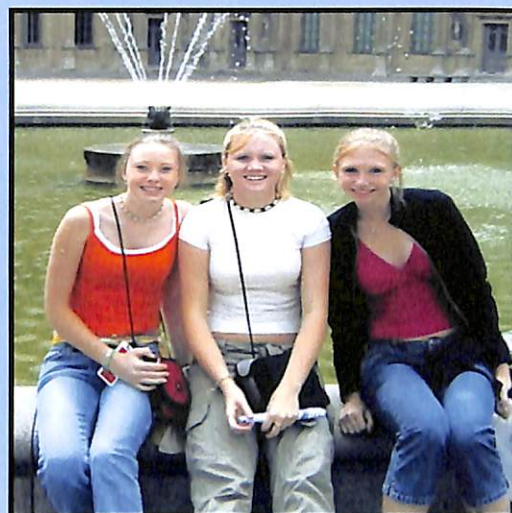

Shining in the sunlight, in all it's glory is the beautiful Notre Dame.

Ashley VanPoppel and Kerrie Winegarden pose for the camera as they make their way down to Normandy beach.

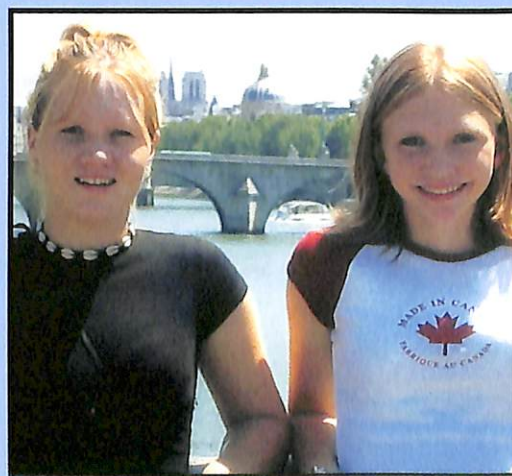

Wouldn't you like to sing opera here at the Paris Academy of Music?

Don't fall in girls! Alisha Maxfield, Courtnee Rogers, and Nikki VanRiel refresh themselves while touring the Louvre.

Everybody huddle! A few of the Eagles crowd around the tour guide in front of Vincent VanGough's house Courtnee Rogers and Nikki VanRiel take a time out on the bridge on a long walk through Paris.

When In Rome...

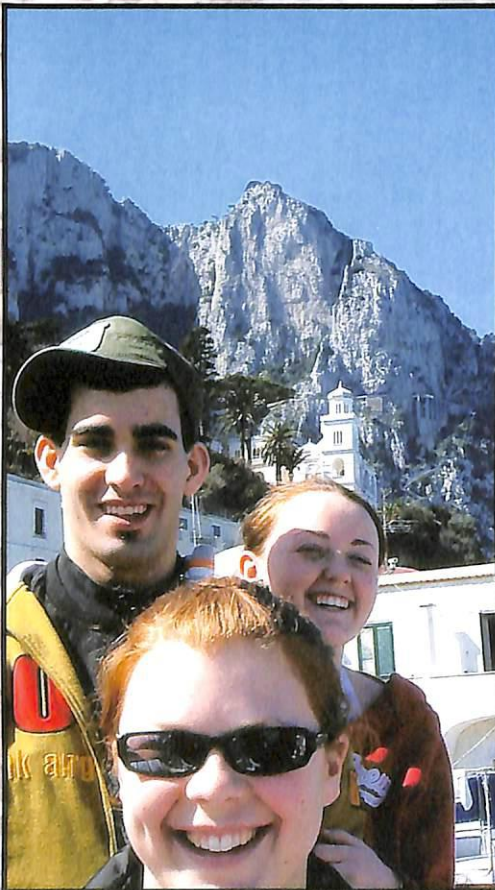

Mmm...Kaitlyn enjoys pizza a la Rome!

March Break witnessed 24 of your fellow Eagles take flight on a Mediterranean odyssey to Italy and Greece. Our ten days in the land of Socrates and Caesar led by our tour guide Marco (boy could he move), were filled with incredible scenery, visits to remnants of ancient civilizations and fantastic weather and food (Okay perhaps too much pasta in Italy). In Rome we took in the splendour of St. Peter's Basilica and the Sistine Chapel (Its amazing what that guy did while laying down) as well as the legendary Colosseum, Spanish Steps and Trevi Fountain (That coin thing does work!) The City of Florence (A city to "dive" for says Mrs. Fenner) revealed the magnificence of Renaissance of Italy's Art and Architecture

Now that's a fountain you want to make a wish in!

or Naples...

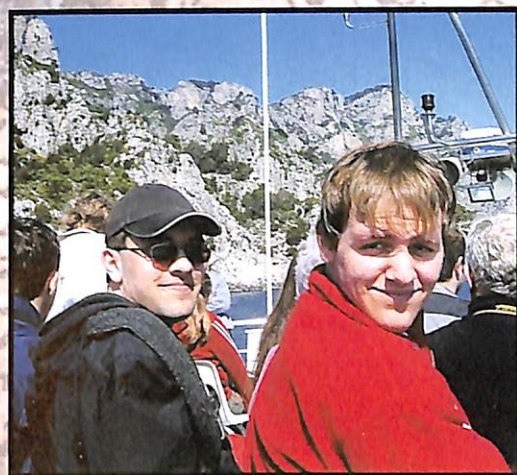

Who wouldn't be smiling with that beautiful scenery behind them? Dan, Janelle, and Kelly have every reason to be happy!

Far from home, the Eagles gather together to take a group shot of their unforgettable trip

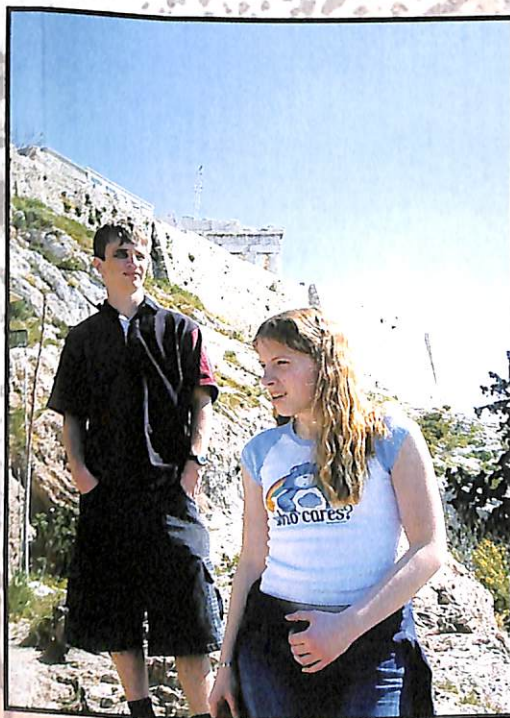

The chaperones enjoy an amazing dinner with a beautiful water backdrop behind them

Mark and Bryant enjoy the boat tour

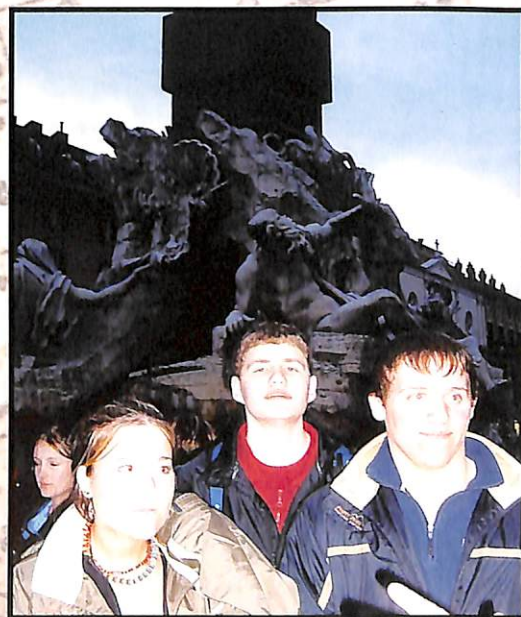

Someone help! Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Johnson are under attack!

Look at that architecture! Niel and Tegan get a close up view of some of history's most famous buildings

Sailing out from Naples, in full view of the notorious Mt. Vesuvius, we explored the island of Capri and spent our last night in Italy in the seaside town of Sorrento. After a comfortable overnight voyage across the Adriatic on a first class ferry we started our tour by taking in the wondrous Delphi, home of the Oracle. Heading down to Athens we completed our tour by taking in the wonders of the old and the new with a hike up to the Acropolis and Parthenon, a shopping spree in the Plaka district and visits to the sites of the 1896 and 2004 Olympic Stadiums. It was a fantastic journey that left us all with many memories!

Nothing can top the famous artwork embedded in stone throughout all of Rome or Greece...

WHAT DO YOU KNOW WHAT DO YOU GUESSES IT'S FLAPPER

Mona and her gangsters plan a big heist. (Josee Wilson, Jesse Mason, and D**)

"A girl sophisticated I'm, a girl emancipated I'm, a girl with savoir faire, I'm a Flapper." Christina Greenwood, Mary Houle, Lauren Gilfoyle and Kelly Forbes are the Flapper girls.

The "con-artists" will lighten Mrs.Graville's purse. Samantha Sullivan, Cody Street and Alaina Frayne.

The Zeigfield Girls are proving they can sing, dance and have sass. Left to Right: Melissa Zavitz, Courtnee Rogers, Alisha Maxfield, Ester Campbell, Janie Vandenberg and Anne-Marie VanEngelen

The Everly Sisters show some attitude as they sing on the radio.

"Extra, Extra, Read all about it." Tammy Hayter, Alaina Frayne and Christina Greenwood.

Staff and students all shared in the fun of putting on the Flapper show.

"Flagpole sitting is very painful" that is what Frank Kirky was thinking at this point.

Mr. Morgeli is getting a big round of applause.

Tammy Hayter "Aint Misbehaven she's saving her love for you."

"Gee your swell" Jake Campbell and Christine Vandenberg sing a show stopping duet.

Flapper Cast And Crew

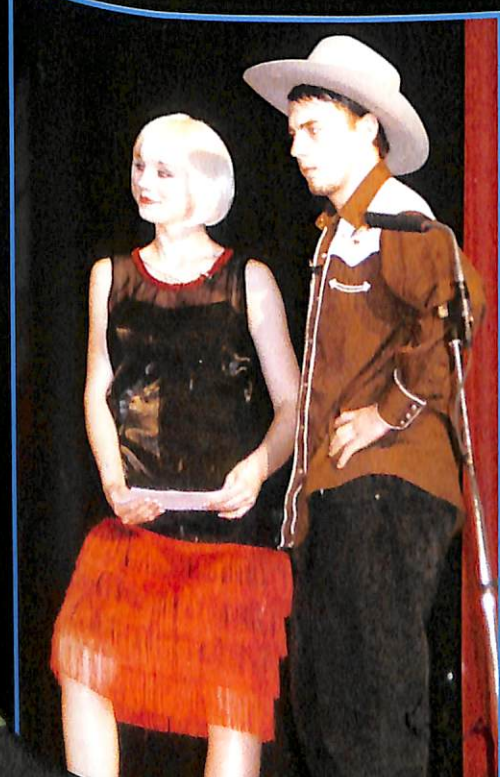

The "Roaring Twenties" came alive as the students and staff of NLSS presented "Flapper" April 13-15th on our stage. Gangsters, Con-Artists, Society-types and Flappers all had a chance to "strut their stuff" for the North Lambton community. The costumes were perfect to depict the 1920's, and the jazzy music got the audience up and dancing during our "Charleston" contest. Mrs. Leystra and Mr. Dumais were SO proud of all our cast and crew.

Far right: Our chorus sings their heart out in the opening number.
Below: "What a swell couple" Ryan Morris and Brien McPherson.

Below: Carly Allen and Jim Gillard are obviously spellbound by the stunning performance of the Sisters.

Below: You got caught read handed girls! Next time think twice before you steal from Mrs. Grandville.

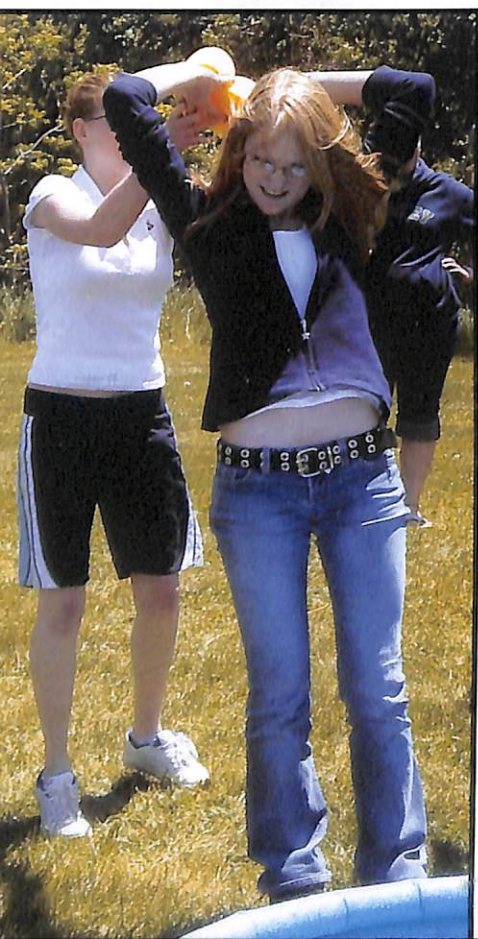

Spring fever

Jamie Sterling and Kelly Hackney are having fun running the Athletic Associations game. Shouldn't you girls be looking at the activity?

The girls are having a rough time going under the string.

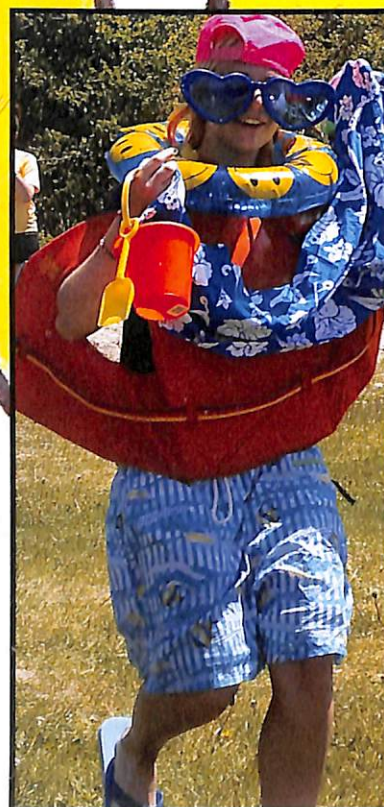

Briana Nixon passing the sponge to Kaitlyn Kelly, don't get too wet ladies.

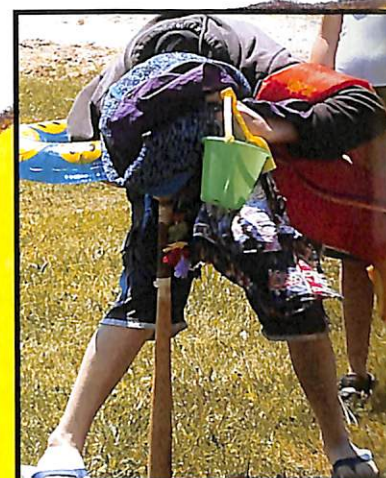

Chris Pettigrew loving the feeling of jell-o in between his toes.

Alycia Allen starting the race off, on a good streak.

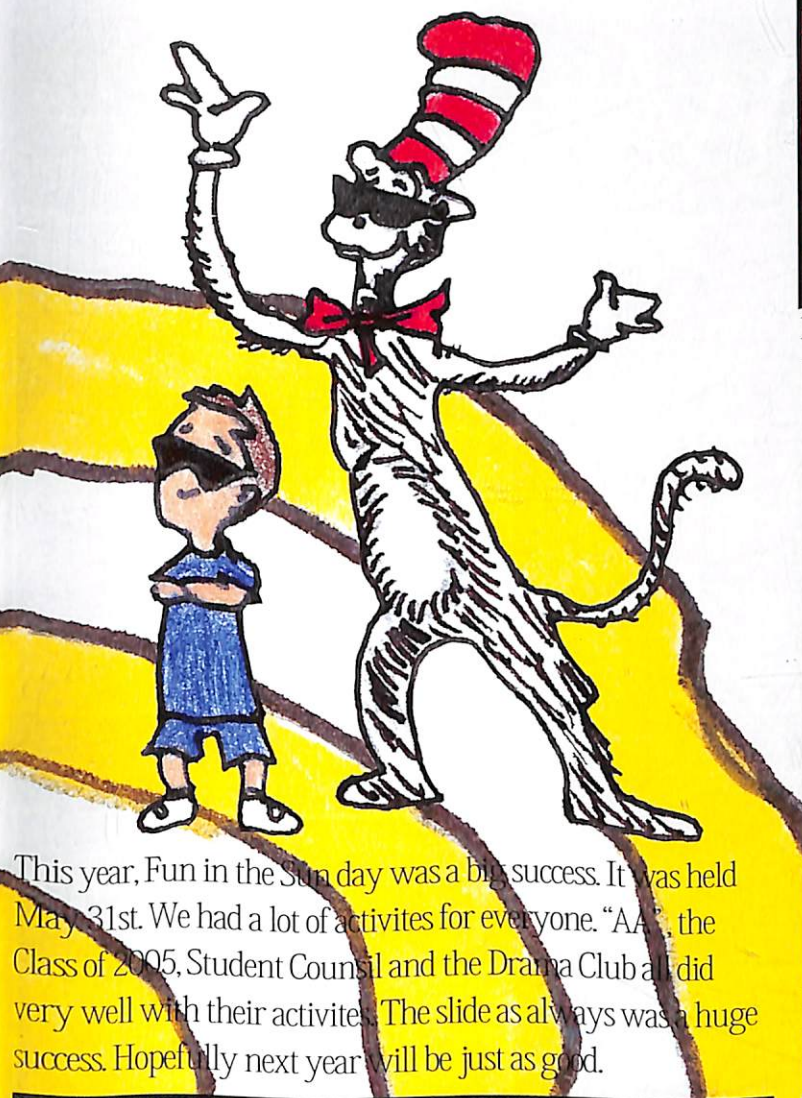

Getting ready for some window washing? I think not!

This guy looks like he's having a hard time.

This year, Fun in the Sun day was a big success. It was held May 31st. We had a lot of activities for everyone. "AA", the Class of 2005, Student Council and the Drama Club all did very well with their activities. The slide as always was a huge success. Hopefully next year will be just as good.

Matt Douglas taking a rest after a busy day.

Mona Ungerer and Caitlin Steven passing the water sponge. Going for the win.

Meghan Watson, Lauren McLean and Alex Pearson are working hard.

Wade Maxfield, having a hard time pushing the ball up the hill with his head.

Mr. Murray, taking the lead in the chicken races. Come on Murray don't lose the winning streak.

Jeff Wilson enjoying his ride down the slide

Matt Crawford easing his way through the string.

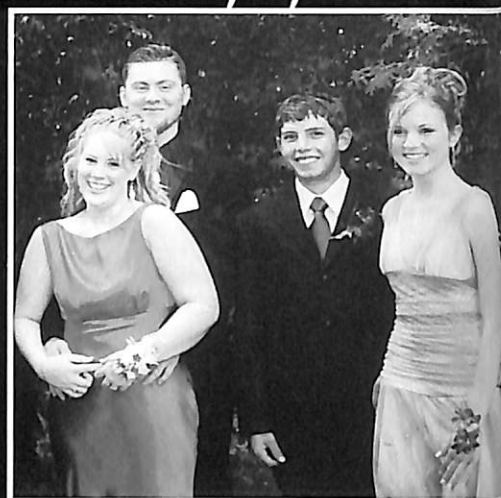

Mark VanMoorsel, rockets down the slide

A Black and White Affair

Jessica Smith and her girl friends were kind enough to take time from their busy schedule to smile for the camera and model their gorgeous dresses.

Katie Dew and her date pose for a picture with Mason Mennen and Kari Newman.

On June 4, 2005 senior students from North Lambton Secondary School attended, "A Black and White Affair." Class of 2005 did a fabulous job decorating the gym and foyer to look as if they had stepped off NLSS property. There were couches, lights, and black drapes which made the atmosphere fun and carefree. Gowns and tuxedos graced the eyes of many; it was one of those nights you'll always remember with the people you'll never forget.

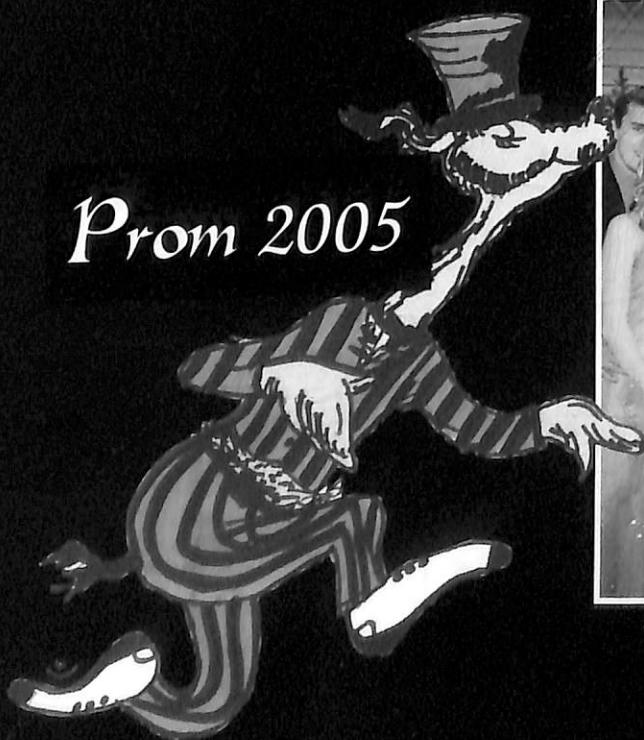

Julie VandenBoer and Jill Thomas before attending "A Black and White Affair."

Prom 2005

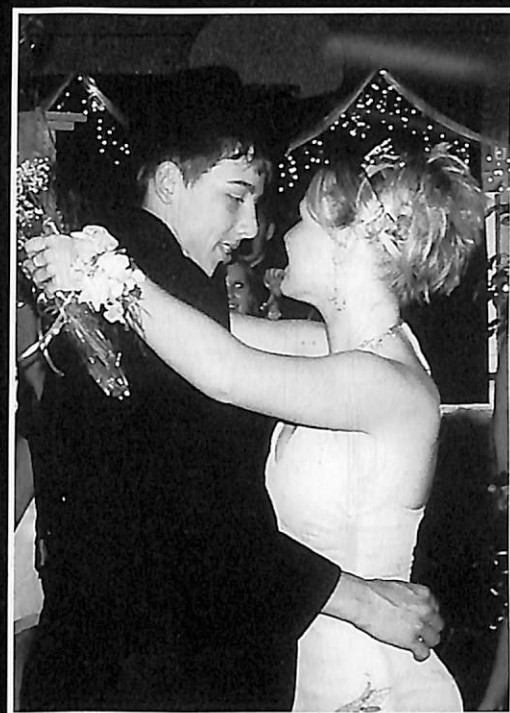

These nine couples sure know what Prom is all about. Not only do they all look fantastic but they spent the whole night with good friends making lasting memories.

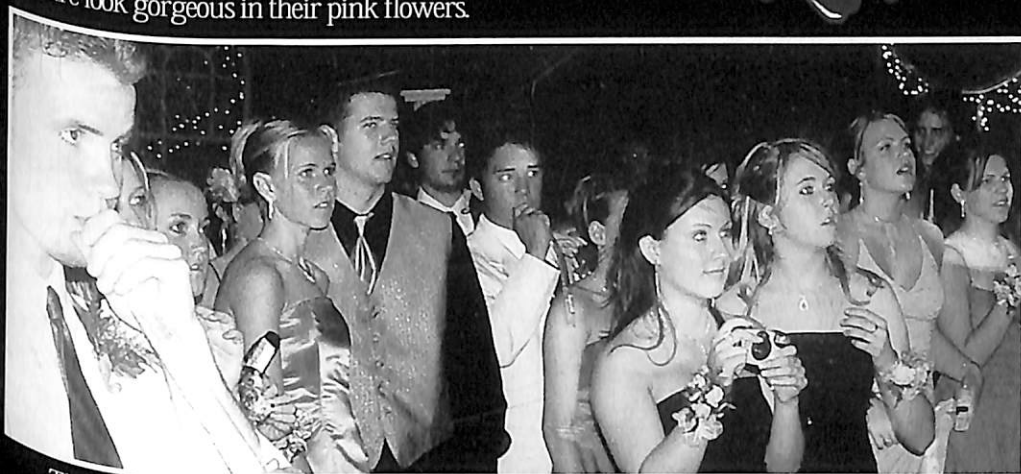

Alicia Augustine and Vanessa Hamilton sure look gorgeous in their pink flowers.

Prom King, Johnny, and Prom Queen, Courtnee, enjoy their first dance dance.

The intense faces on these individuals show it was a close call for Prom King and Queen. Congratulations to Johnny Klumpkins and Courtnee Rogers.

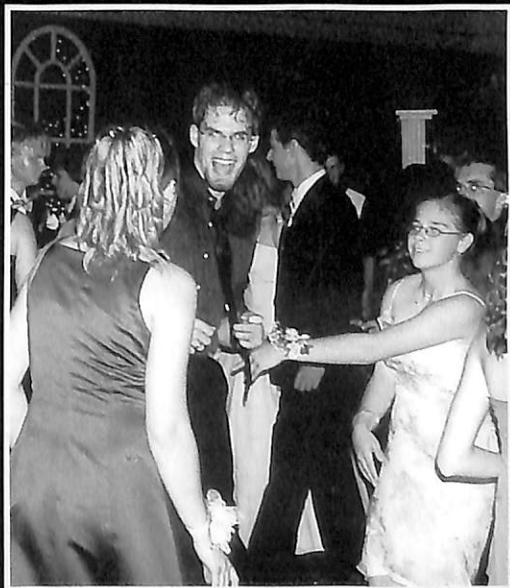

The Allen Sisters, Alicia and Carly, dance away to Bohemian Rap City.

Christine Perkins and her date share a dance on the dance floor.

Lauren Charette, Tammy Hayter, and Brooke Dudman.

Arian Eady Ward can sure dance up a storm with friends Julia and Alida.

The word Tattoo comes from the Tahitian word, "tatu", meaning to mark something. It is said that the Tahitian people were marked with "tatu" to protect themselves from evil spirits. The art of tattooing dates back as far as 12 000 BC. Even Prehistoric man was thought to have practiced tattooing, possibly for therapeutic purposes.

By the start of the Twentieth century heavily tattooed people were appearing in circuses and freak shows. At this time tattooing was forced "underground", as it had become socially unacceptable.

It was in the first and second World Wars, that tattooing began to thrive in modern day society. Navy soldiers received tattoos at almost every port that they stopped and brought tattooing out in the open once again.

Today tattooing is often seen as something permanent in a disposable society. A personal scrapbook of the wearer's life and interests. The changes throughout the history of tattooing has developed a much cleaner way of permanent visual expression, that cannot be experienced any other way.

No matter the language...

North Lambton Secondary School has a variety of languages that are available to increase your learning experiences. The three languages available throughout the school year include English, Ojibwe and French classes. All of these programs give students a chance to learn about different cultures and where our languages originated from.

HISTORY AND LAW

History, from grade 10 to 12, the students of North Lambton continue to learn more about our Canadian past. The history department is not one to hesitate on bringing new and interesting ideas on how to learn about our history in this high school course. A couple of the creative highlights from this year's history courses included: a one man reenactment of a World War One soldier's story from the trenches. Some of the history classes took their learning to another level and traveled to Lucan to learn the tragic history of the Donnelly family an Irish family with a sad past. All in all the history classes are an dventure them selves.

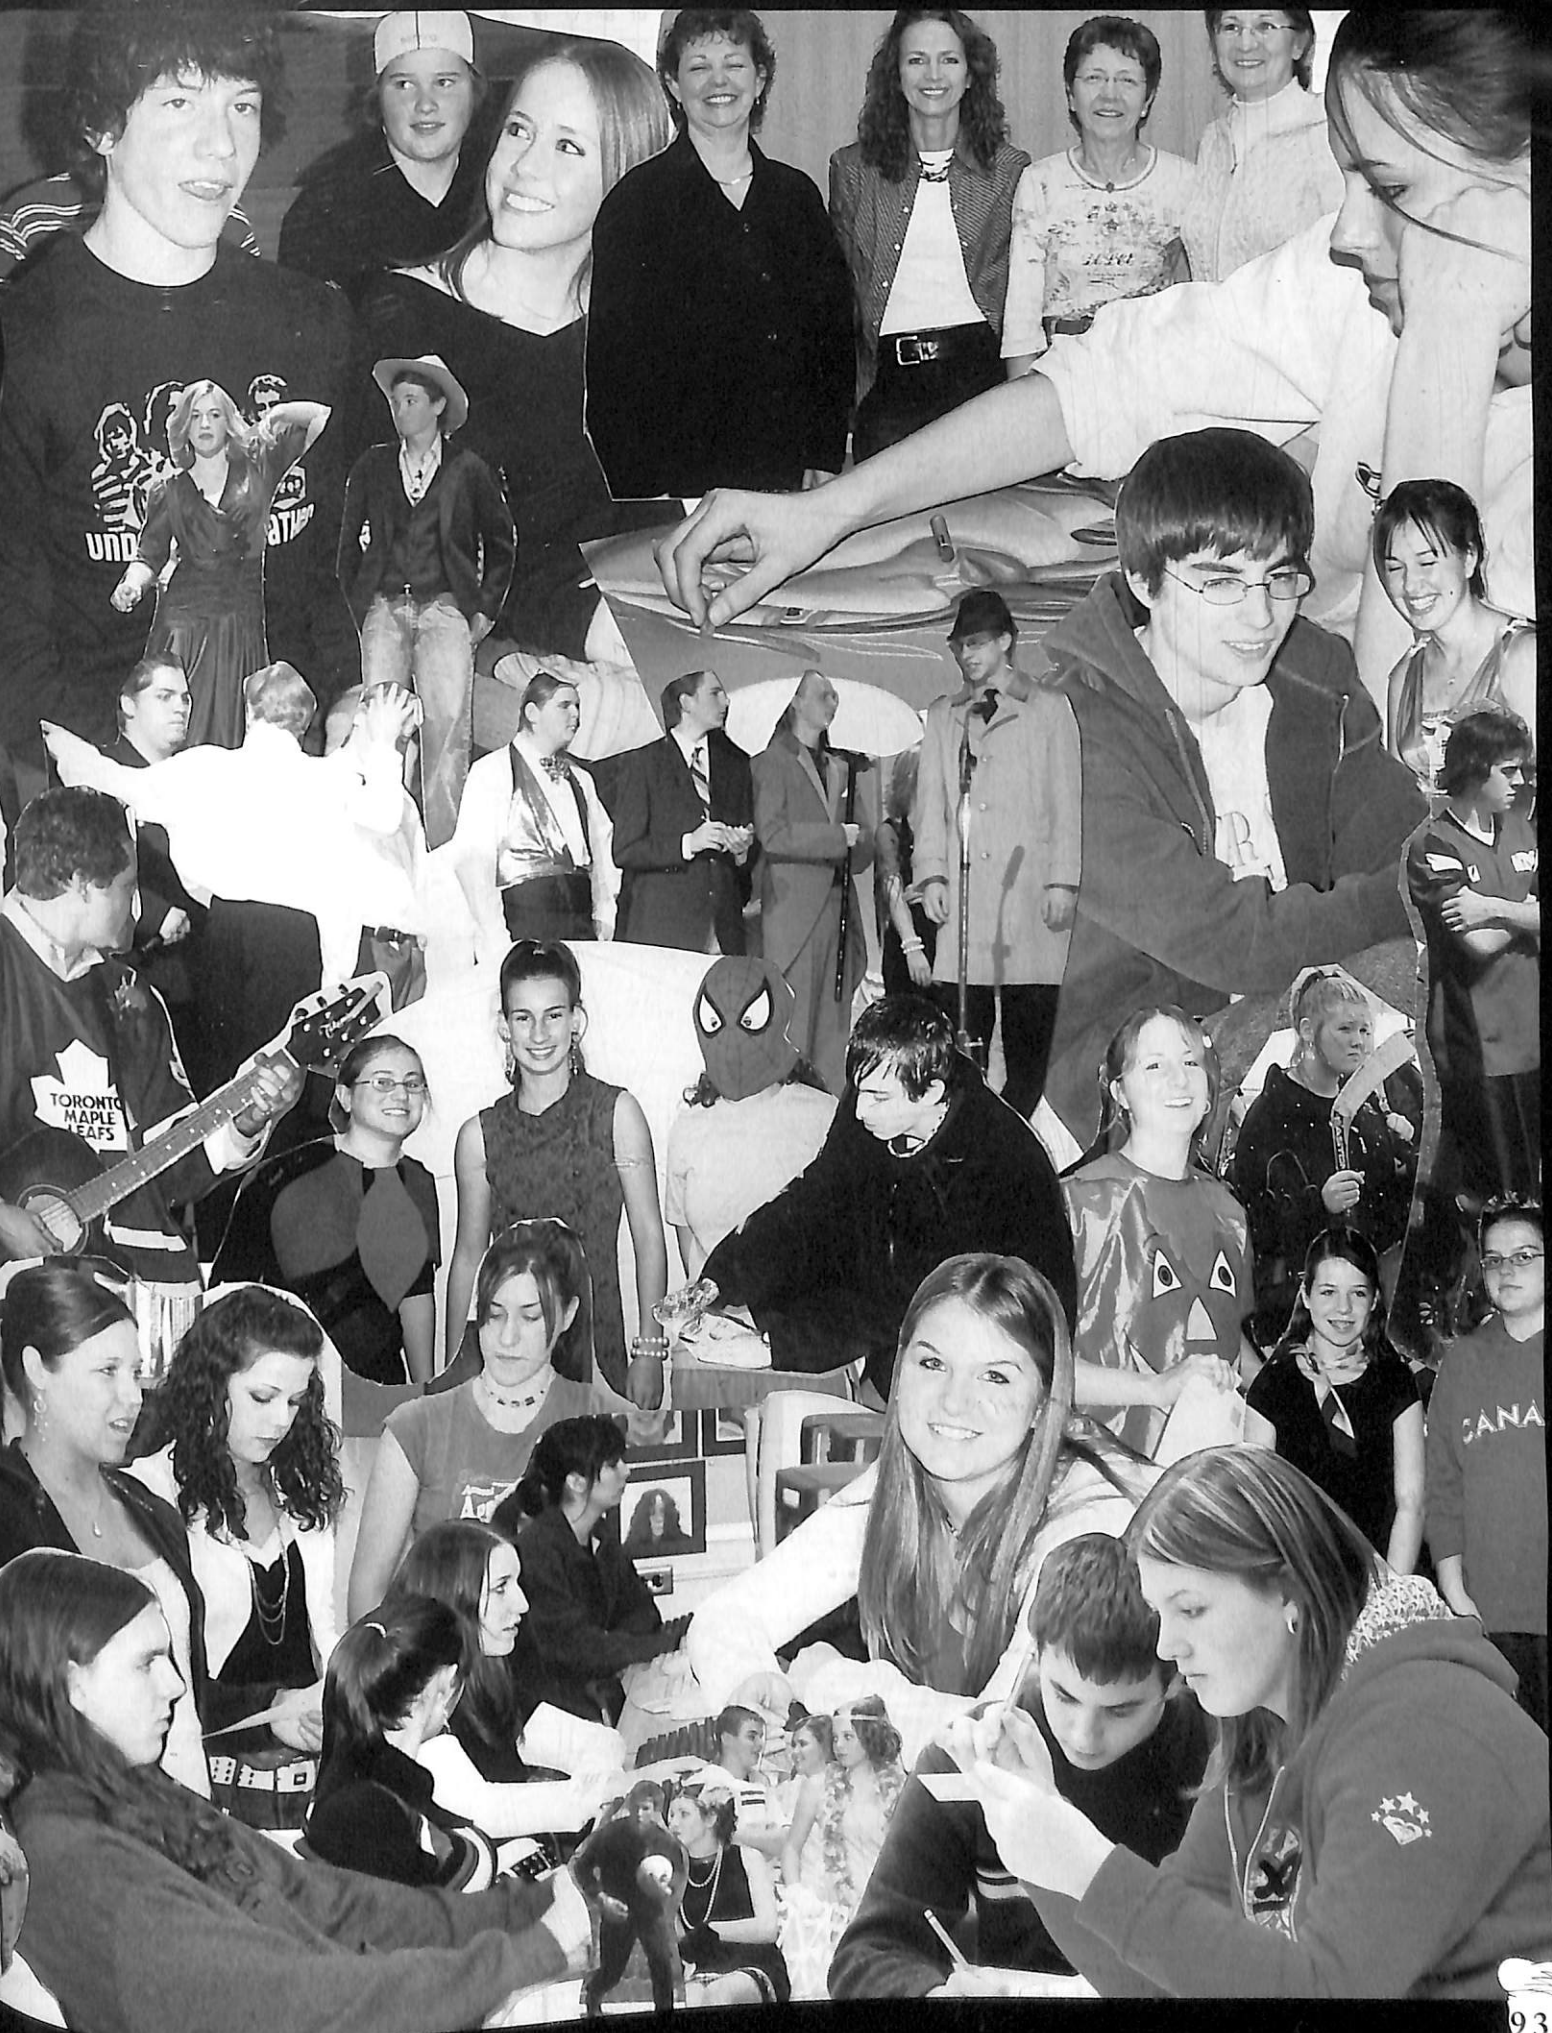

Our very own one man reenactment of an experience from World War One kept the audience's attention in the Cafeteria.

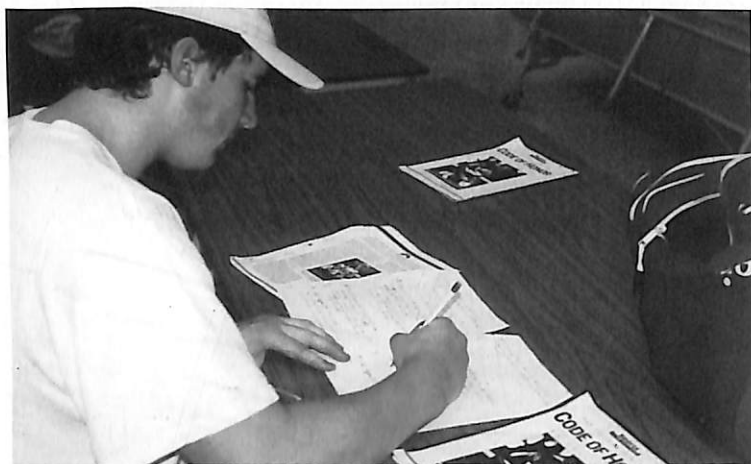

Dan Vanenglaln and Johnny Klumpkens reenact some exciting part of Canadian history.

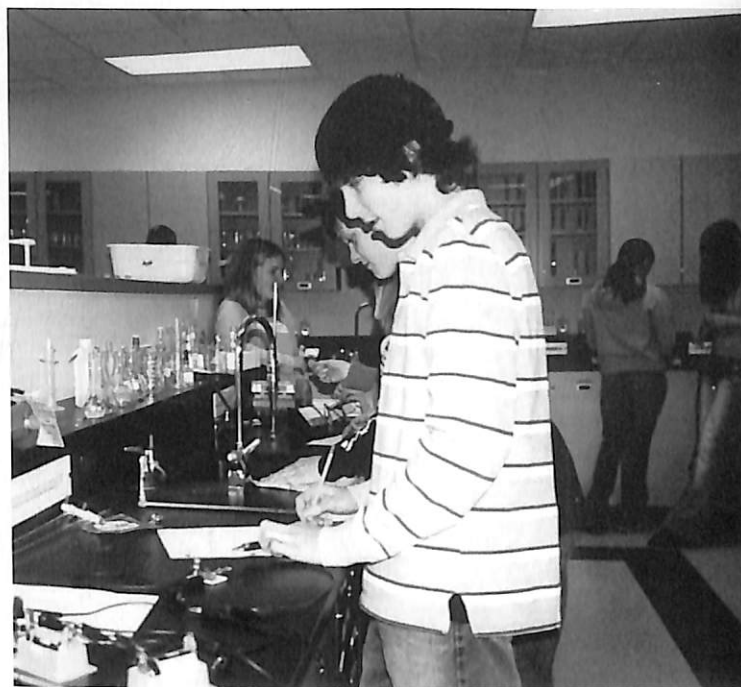

A Little Bit of Science

Greg Sullivan is hard at work in the cafeteria concentrating on a prestigious physics assignment. By the way Greg, where is the rest of your class gone? You must have scared them all away with your intelligence. Keep up the good work ethics Greg, they will help you out in the future.

Jordan Campbell is finishing up a biology lab in his science class. He is working hard and seems to be really interested in concluding on his experiment. Maybe someday Jordan Campbell will become a mad scientist... who knows!!!

Kaley Sisler is hard at work in the library studying for her Physics test. We all know how much fun it is studying in the library. Hopefully Kaley wasn't too distracted by the flashing cameras.

Science teacher, Mr. Singh gets in the Halloween mood by dressing up as a "ghetto princess". He looks very fashionable with a crown, sixties hair and earrings. We are not too sure how the students paid attention to his science lesson when he was looking like that. Way to keep the school spirit up Mr. Singh. We will be sure to keep our eyes open to see what the science teachers are wearing next Halloween. Lets hope it get even better next year.

Calculuck

It's no ordinary Potluck!

Every year, the grade 12 Calculus class has a potluck. This is not a normal potluck because 1. The Calculus class supplies the food, and 2. It's during school hours!

Students in this class include: Dennis Verberk, Bradley Ingold, Sarah Rutten, Andrew Nixon, Niel Van Engelen, Bryan Davidson, Brien MacPherson, Kent Edwards, Krista Dewsbury, Alaina Morris, and Nick Campbell.

The Peer Tutoring program is an open course that allows senior level students the opportunity to help & assist in the everyday classroom activities of junior level classes. Tutors gain valuable experience in dealing with students and the faculty of the school. The course also allows placement in a wide variety of classroom assignments including: Physical Education, Business, English, Horticulture, Visual Art, Science, Geography, & Math to name a few.

There were workshops aplenty, and NLSS hosted it's very own 2nd annual Culturas Day for elementary students. This year's focus was on music with workshops on Celtic, Latin, Stringed instruments, and Jazz. A group of 6 students went to SCITS in May to take part in the Cardboat Regatta. Leona M. and Lauren G. had to paddle the boat, made only with cardboard and duct tape.

They finished 6th out of 12 entrants, and the team won best design. Plans for next year are already underway, good luck everybody!

Not only do most students at North Lambton get up to get ready for school by 6 o'clock in the morning, over 75% of our schools population hold down a part time job that keeps them up well into the evening. Most students have jobs at restaurants, fast-food joints and local area businesses. Juggling a job as well as school is not always easy. An after school job is a good way to save for college or university and it is a VERY good way to make some extra money for whatever purposes! Just ask any of the students featured on our students at work page.

Athletic Association President Josée Wilson

This has been an interesting year in the Athletics department of NLSS.
We've had some great accomplishments and a lot of memories.

Athletic Association started off the year with our annual unique auction which raised almost $7000. We also had many different fund-raisers such as Regal, BYOB and the M & M meat day which helped to send all our teams to their games and tournaments.

This was also a successful year for all our athletes. Our Sr. boy's volleyball team, girl's curling team, girls golf team and some members of the badminton team all competed at SWOSSA. We also had 3 girls from the track team make it to OFSAA regional for javelin. One of the girls even got the chance to compete at OF-SAA where she placed 7th. Finally, once again this year our Sr. boys hockey team competed in Windsor at OFSAA.

I would like to thank Mrs. Johnson and all the members of Athletic Association for all their hard work and dedication this year. I would also like to congratulate all the athletes for competing to the best of their abilities. Being AA president has been a great experience for me and if there is one thing I could say it would be to get involved, have fun and keep up the eagle spirit. GO EAGLES!

Growing in popularity, this year's Environmental Club was a huge success. With enthusiastic members, and some creative ideas, they came up with events such as Environmental Trivia, Crush Cans, and of course the Envirothon. The Envirothon was conducted by the grade 12 biology class, for the grade 10's, putting them into teams and testing them with Environmental questions. Hopefully this club has had an effect on the students of NLSS and they remember to...

You are more "blessed" to-day than you were yesterday.....if you have laughed often, given something, forgiven even more, made a new friend to-day, or made stepping-stones of stumbling-blocks; if you have thought more in terms of "Thy" will, than of "My" will, be done, or if you have succeeded in being cheerful even if you were weary. You are more "blessed" to-night than you were this morningif you have taken time to trace the handiwork of God in the commonplace things of life, or if you have learned to count out things that really do not count, or if you have been a little blinder to the faults of friend or foe. You are "blessed" if a little child has smiled at you and you at them, and if you have looked for the best in others, and have given others the best in you.
